Climate Change and Nature-related Risks Management

SinoPac Holdings and Bank SinoPac adopted TCFD and TNFD frameworks to publish the Climate and Nature-Related Financial Disclosures Reports respectively, both received the British Standards Institution (BSI) Level 5+: Excellence (the highest-grade verification) in TCFD climate-related financial disclosure conformity check and maturity model for three consecutive years

- The Board is the highest supervision unit for climate and nature governance. The Sustainable Development Committee and the Risk Management Committee take charge of critical issues such as the supervision of sustainable development, climate change and nature.
- The climate change risks and the progress of related projects are reported to the Risk Management Committee, the Audit Committee, and the Board on a quarterly basis. Starting in 2024, the nature-related risks are reported every year.
- Sustainability indicators weighted for 15% of the LTI program; climate-related KPIs of executives weighted for 3%~10%.

- Identify climate and nature-related risks and opportunities every year and formulate mitigation or adaptation measures.
- Analyze climate scenarios of physical and transition risks across value chain and evaluate the potential quantitative financial impacts to assess climate resilience.
  - Utilize the TNFD framework and LEAP approach to analyze biodiversity impacts, evaluate nature-related sensitive industries, and conduct exploratory scenario analyses on water resource dependency and its impact on high-dependency, high-impact industries.
  - Promote low-carbon transitions by setting SBTs, increasing use of green energy and adjusting our business.

- Use three lines of defense in internal control to manage climate and nature-related risks.
- Management of investment and lending risks: With "Sustainable Finance Policy," ESG factors, climate change and biodiversity are incorporated into the decision-making process in responsible investment, responsible lending and the Equator Principles.
- Management of Operational Risks: Establish "Business Continuity Plan (BCP)," "Emergency Incident Response Rules," and "Natural Disaster Emergency Response Guidelines" to enhance disaster response capabilities. Strengthen sustainable supply chain management and support low-carbon and sustainable suppliers.

- Set climate-related metrics with short, medium, and long-term targets
- Net-zero commitment: Achieve net-zero emissions across all financial portfolios by 2050.
- SBTs were approved in January 2024 with regular monitoring of progress
- Conduct the carbon inventory for Scope 3 financed emissions with the PCAF standards and completed the ISO 14064 verification.
- Decarbonization policy: Since 2022, we have planned to gradually exit investments and financing in thermal coal and unconventional oil and gas. For clients in high-carbon industries that lack transition measures, we will consider including them in our decarbonization policy.

Decarbonization of the Investment and Financing Portfolios

SinoPac Holdings has developed a 5-year net-zero strategy with short, medium, and long-term goals. The progress and effectiveness of the strategy are reviewed on a rolling basis and reported regularly to the Sustainability Development Committee and the Board of Directors. The progress is also publicly disclosed in the annual sustainability report

	Stranded Assets[1]	Decarbonization-Pressured Asset	Green Asset
Meaning	SBTi advises financial institutions to adopt a four-step process, including disclosure, arrest, transition, and phase-out, for fossil fuel-related industries, with the ultimate goal of ending financial support for existing thermal coal assets by 2030 (excluding those with net-zero transition plans).	Use transition finance to help four major industries in the "12 Key Strategies for Taiwan's 2050 Net Zero Pathway", including building, transportation, industries, and electricity, to reach milestones and advance towards to long-term goal of attaining net zero by 2050.	Align efforts with the "12 Key Strategies for Taiwan's 2050 Net Zero Pathway" and use green finance to help industries complete the low-carbon transition.
SinoPac implementation strategy	Phasing out	Driving transition	Developing business
Main actions	• Establish decarbonization policies for specific industries and implement decarbonization progress tracking and monitoring. • Continue to enhance the decarbonization policies. Expand the scope of stranded assets and withdraw investment/loan positions from those that lack transition activities.	• Continue to enhance the carbon inventory and monitoring of the investment portfolio. • Continue to enhance the transition engagement and encourage clients to set SBTs and formulate decarbonization plans. • Develop transition financial products and services: Work with external professional institutions and companies, encourage corporate clients to conduct GHG inventories and validation, identify key metrics for the low-carbon transition, and provide financial solutions to help companies complete the low-carbon transition.	• Create green energy ecosystem: Consolidate our leading position in the solar PV financing market and monitor green energy industrial technological and policy developments to win business opportunities in green energy. • Promote green building mortgages.

Note: 1. Stranded assets refer to assets that are technologically outdated or do not comply with regulatory requirements, cannot be used, must be accounted for in depreciation, and invariably incur losses upon disposal. Stranded assets are prevalent in industries that are affected by policies adopted to address climate change risks such as energy, manufacturing, or transportation and those that are adversely affected by changes in the environment.

Social Finance

Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises (MSMEs)

- Bank SinoPac actively utilizes the guarantees provided by the "Small & Medium Enterprise Credit Guarantee Fund of Taiwan (TSMEG)" to provide diverse loan services for SMEs in Taiwan that meet their business models
- DA BOSS Ecosystem: Launching in 2024, DA BOSS aims to support companies with all the necessary processes from the establishment of the preparatory office and the setting up of the company. Bank SinoPac created the "DA BOSS ecosystem platform" that provides entrepreneurs with integrated solutions to help domestic medium and small enterprises and startups to move towards digital transition.
